

FIGURE 441e-28 Hashimoto's encephalopathy (Chap. 164). Axial FLAIR (A) demonstrates focal area of abnormal high signal involving the gray and white matter in the left frontal lobe. There is also a small area of abnormal high signal in the precentral gyrus. Axial T1-weighted images (B, C) pre and postgadolinium demonstrate cortical/pial enhancement in the region of high signal on FLAIR.