

FIGURE 441e-58 Hepatic encephalopathy (Chap. 330). Axial T1-weighted MRI (A, B) shows increased intrinsic T1 signal involving the basal ganglia bilaterally, particularly the globus pallidus (arrows).

FIGURE 441e-59 Guillain-Barré syndrome (Chap. 460). Axial precontrast T1-weighted MRI (A) and axial and sagittal T1-weighted postgadolinium (B, C) images show thickening and increased enhancement of the anterior roots of the cauda equina (arrows).