

FIGURE 76e-18 Frostbite of the hand, with vesiculation surrounded by edema and erythema. (Courtesy of Daniel F. Danzl, MD; with permission.)

FIGURE 76e-19 Frostbite of the foot, with vesiculation surrounded by edema and erythema. (Courtesy of Daniel F. Danzl, MD; with permission.)

FIGURE 76e-20 Kaposi's sarcoma in a patient with AIDS. Patch, plaque, and tumor stages are shown.

FIGURE 76e-21 Non-Hodgkin's lymphoma involving the skin, with typical violaceous, "plum-colored" nodules. (Courtesy of Jean Bologna, MD; with permission.)

FIGURE 76e-22 Basal cell carcinoma, with central ulceration and a pearly, rolled, telangiectatic tumor border.

FIGURE 76e-23 Mycosis fungoides is a cutaneous T cell lymphoma. Plaque-stage lesions are seen in this patient.